

NAME: Amreeta Regmi
PARTY: Democratic
SEEKING: State Representative, District 95

Why are you seeking your office?

Over the past few years, there has been a growing disconnect between the Legislature and the people they have taken an oath to serve. As I become more involved with the community, it is becoming apparent our Legislature is not doing enough to solve real problems we are facing. I am seeking office because I want to bring the Legislature and the people together and change the way we make decisions. By bringing everyone to the table we will be able to produce better outcomes and move together toward a more prosperous future.

What do you expect to accomplish if elected?

My priority is to help bring new jobs to the district. After losing two large employers over the past year it is even more important for our elected officials to bring new industry and jobs. By working with the local communities and the State I will be able to leverage my international business network to encourage companies to invest in our district. Additionally, I will work to improve our schools. Georgia's students and teachers have suffered through many sizable cuts due to misallocated resources. I am committed to giving our teachers the resources they need to help our children succeed.

What distinguishes your candidacy?

I am not a politician. I am a mother, a community leader, and a professional. After 18 years of the same representation, I offer new ideas, a fresh perspective, and over 20 years of experience in international trade and development. I was born in Kathmandu, Nepal and am the first woman of Nepalese origin to run for state level political office in the United States. I have worked hard with honesty to support and maintain my family and I will apply the same work ethics as a state legislator.

What are the key issues in your race?

The key issues in this race are the same questions that we all face in our own lives every day. Do we have enough jobs? Do our children have the best schools? Are our leaders ethical and working for our best interest? Are our parks, air and water safe for our families to enjoy?

Pick one issue. Expand on how you will address it.

The biggest issue we face is the supply of good jobs with benefits. After losing two of our big employers NCR Corp and Fiserv to neighboring counties, the need for new jobs and opportunities is even greater. I will use my experience and contacts to bring investment and jobs to Georgia from both national and international sectors, and work hard to ensure we keep jobs we already have. I look at politics through a professional lens, with a focus on results, outcomes and performance indicators. It is my goal to apply these skills to bring more jobs to District 95.

Give a 100 word summary of your background.

I am fiscally conservative and socially progressive, a mother, a community worker and an international development consultant who speaks five languages. I hold an MBA from Brenau University and a Ph.D. in Environmental Sciences from Wageningen University in The Netherlands. Working across party lines and international boundaries with a positive attitude is my strength. My work experience spans across non-governmental, bilateral and multi-lateral organizations, managing, and coordinating multi-million dollar and multi-faceted programs. I am a Zoning Board of Appeals Member in the City of Peachtree Corners. My two sons Jason, Joel, my boxer-mix Hercules and I live in Peachtree Corners.
